

Witch

Tragic, Burning Death

Starter Cards:

- Magic Missile
- Folk Wisdom
- Toil & Trouble
- Devil's Deal

Magic Missile

Powerful Last Resort

A hand-drawn placeholder text "Placeholder" in pink ink, written inside a white rectangular box with a green border. The text is written in a simple, slightly irregular font.

Choose a player to lose all-but-one dice.
This card is removed from play after use.

Folk wisdom

No-nonsense Pillar of the Community

Placeholder

“Nope” the last action.

Discard.

Toil & Trouble

O, How You Miss their Squabbling

Placeholder

Create two fake players, each with 1 dice and controlled by you. They can do everything a player can (even vote!), but they disappear after they've finished a turn.

This card is removed from play after use.

This card can be played at any time.

Devil's deal

Satan? Like, the food?

A hand-drawn diagram of a card labeled 'Placeholder'. The card is rectangular with a vertical line on the left side. The word 'Placeholder' is written in a stylized, hand-drawn font across the middle of the card. The letter 'P' is large and has a small 'pk' written above it. The rest of the word is written in a similar style.

Discard either:

- One card to get one dice
- Three cards for two dice
- Five cards for three dice

Discard.

Druid

Peaceful, Contented Death

Starting dice: 2

Cards:

- Herbal Cleanse
- Mind-wipe Serum
- Intervention
- Therapy Session

Herbal Cleanse

Probably good for you!

Placeholder

Reset one player's dice count to their starting amount.

Discard.

Mind-wipe Serum

Probably bad for you!

A hand-drawn sketch in pink ink on a white background. It starts with a vertical line, followed by a triangle pointing right, then the word "Placeholder" in a cursive, sketchy font.

Make a player forget a thing for the rest of the game. If they don't play along at any point, you get one of their dice.

This card is removed from play after use.

This card can be played at any time.

Intervention

Seriously, stop doing that.

The image shows the word "Placeholder" written in a cursive, handwritten style using pink ink. The letters are connected, and the overall appearance is that of a quick scribble on a piece of paper.

Look at a player's ability cards, and then take one, if you can come up with a reasonable argument for doing so.

Discard.

Therapy Session

Licence Schmidence

A hand-drawn illustration of the word "Placeholder" in a pink, cursive script. The letters are formed with simple, sketchy lines, and the word is written within a white rectangular box that has a thin green border.

Placeholder

Starting dice: 2

Cards:

- Gambler's Fallacy
- Double or Nothing
- Snake eyes
- Not Dead

Gambler's Fallacy

This is the one!

A hand-drawn word "Placeholder" in a sketchy, pinkish-red font. The letter 'P' is stylized with a small triangle on its top right corner. The word is written within a light yellow rectangular box with a thin purple border.

Change any number of dice numbers to “wild” or “no longer wild” for the rest of the round.

Discard.

Double or Nothing

Safe bet, honestly

The word "Placeholder" is written in a hand-drawn, pink, sketchy font. Each letter is formed by a single continuous line, with some letters having small loops or tails. The letters are separated by vertical lines, giving it a segmented appearance.

If you win a Calza challenge, get two dice instead of one. If you lose, you don't lose any dice.

Discard.

Snake Eyes

Snake eyeeeeees!!!!

A hand-drawn illustration in pink ink. On the left is a simple drawing of a snake's head, facing right, with a small 'P' above it. To the right of the snake is the word 'Placeholder' written in a cursive, handwritten style.

If you roll snake eyes (two ones):

1. show everyone
2. say “snake eyes!”
3. take another dice

then either:

- Dive for a discarded card
- Take two cards

You may also reroll your dice.
